

The Joe Hunter Trio

Night Town favorites Joe Hunter and Dallas Coffey released their new CD "From This Moment On" in 2003. Hunter is the pianist of choice in the Northeast Ohio area. He can be heard frequently in the Fat Tuesday Big Band, Swing City, and backing big name artists. He has backed many, including the legendary Tito Puente, saxophonist David Sanborn, and recently he and Dallas played in support of saxophonists David "Fathead" Newman, and Scott Hamilton at Night Town. Joe Hunter is also on the faculty at Cuyahoga Community College (Tri-C), one of the top jazz programs in the country.

Bassist Dallas Coffey rarely has a day off. He has worked over 7 gigs a week frequently in the recent past. A versatile musician Coffey, can be found playing electric bass in blues, funk, and rock bands throughout the region and is frequently found on new CD's from our area. An excellent acoustic bassist, Coffey's jazz skills are immediately evident on the new CD. Rounding out the trio is veteran drummer Val Kent, who is also featured on the CD. Kent is one of the most highly regarded drummers in the Great Lakes region.
